Intro

Why are these the “Best Openers”?

Welcome to Umpteen Date’s Online Pickup Artist Bible of POF Openers Ebook. After reading and following the advice laid out in this Ebook your online dating success rate is going to increase by 80% to 90% in no time flat.

This guide is designed to set off a domino effect to help get you (depending on your wants) more dates, more lays, or more interactions with women than you ever thought imaginable. The methods, and openers in this guide have been rigorously tested and verified by a small group of elite online dating pickup artists (PUAs).

Our testing efforts involved using Umpteen Dates to be able to target only hot women in our areas. We didn’t go outside of our 5 major city zip codes but in total we targeted over 22,000 unique women with over 6,000 different messages.

We then gathered all the messages that got the most (and most positive) replies from women and compiled them into this ebook for you.

The results that Umpteen Dates enabled us to achieve is data of the biggest openers success test ever conducted in the history of online dating and the internet. Now the results are yours to use. But be cautious, this information is very powerful and we don't advise using it in non-responsible ways.

Some Online Dating Background

A lot of men start out online dating with an optimistic attitude because of the assumption of quick and easy access to hundreds and thousands of women looking for dates. They have a reason to be optimistic, after all, in this day and age when everyone's life is busy and hectic, what better way for men and women to meet than by conveniently interacting from anywhere they have internet access.

The only problem with this convenience is that perhaps it makes things too convenient, for women that is. Just because a woman is on an online dating site it doesn't mean she's dropped out from the rest of the world of dating and is now exclusively only able to be obtained through a dating site. Instead, unfortunately for men, she now has double the men perusing her, online men, and offline men, which means double the competition for you.

Don't be discouraged, if you use the advice in this guide to distinguish yourself and to stand out from all the other men she's avoiding, you'll be the only one she thinks about day in and day out.

Why do Online Women Seldom Respond to Messages?

Because the majority of online dating sites, including POF, have a ratio of about 3 men for every 1 woman, women can be as picky as they want. Further, because the ratio is so skewed, a lot of women on the site get bombarded and assaulted with hundreds of incoming messages from all types of desperate men with cringe worthy messages like "damn u sexy" and "hey girl let me get your digits".

The bad news is that messages and men like that unfortunately leave a negative perception in women's minds about online dating. A lot drop out never to return only after a few days of trying it out. The good news is by being different from those men, and standing out using the advice in this guide, you can not only get these girls before they leave, but you can use online dating as a continual stream of meeting gorgeous women virtually whenever you want, and in any city that you're in.

What your Online Dating Interaction Goal Should Be.

The goal in online dating is to build rapport, and to cause intrigue and fascination. The more a woman invests into replying to you, the better you have a chance at a date.

In short, your goal is to get a woman talking with and replying to you. The more replies you get from her, the higher her investment in you becomes. When she has a higher investment and history with you, the less attention she is going to pay to the other men messaging her, and the better of a chance you have at getting an easy date out of it.

For each message she responds to you, you stand at a higher percentage of a chance that she will respond to the next one because her investment will go up. The higher investment she's made, the more she will continue to invest.

For example, if she is 10% likely to respond to your first message and does so, she will then be 15% likely to respond to your 2nd message, and then 25% likely to respond to a 3rd, and 40% likely to respond to a 4th etc. etc.

You can clearly see because of this, the most important, and hardest message to get a reply to will ALWAYS be the 1st one. That's where this guide comes in handy!

Message Don'ts?

Assuming you want to try your hand at creating your own unique opener, here are some tips on messages don'ts. Do not send messages that look like you put no effort into them, messages like "hey", "hi", "how are you doing today?" or anything else mundane that doesn't require any thought to construct.

Also, do not send her messages with paragraphs of your whole life story or bragging about anything. Keep the messages brief and fun at first, they can become longer and provide more information as the conversation gets deeper with her. Ideally, you shouldn't volunteer too much about yourself until she starts asking you specific questions.

Message To-Do

Do try to do one of these things in your messages, cause intrigue, be funny, ask a funny or thought provoking question, give a sincere compliment based on something that can apply to her personality, be bold and assertive and make yourself stand out.

How to Use this Guide

Although the openers in this guide are some of the best in the world and score extremely high response rates from women, they will not guarantee you get a reply each time. Your profile pictures, and profile description are far more important than your message when it comes to getting a reply.

Importance scale in getting women to reply to Online Dating Messages

1. Pictures
2. Profile Description
3. First Message
4. Being able to continue the conversation at the same or close to same pace as you started it.

If you find that you are still not getting the desired outcome in your response rate even with the messages in this guide. Then it means your profile needs a complete overhaul. Information on how to structure a dating profile for success is beyond the scope of this guide but a plethora of information is available online by googling for it.

Also, this is a book of openers, not a book on how to make conversation, so I won't provide you with what to say in follow-up messages. The best advice I can give you is, respond to her responses the way the guy you portray yourself out to be would. This means if your profile shows that you're a fun, party animal, respond like a fun party animal would. If your profile is set up to show you as an intellectual business man, reply like a professional would. Being congruent in your messages to the way you set yourself up to being perceived is the key to keeping a conversation going.

Info about the Openers

There are 7 different categories of openers. One is not better than the other, test out and use openers from each category to see what works best for you. If you find a particular category that is giving you better results than the others, stick with that one.

Remember, you don't have to use these openers verbatim, feel free to alter and modify them to suit your personality. The key is to test, and test again to see what works best for you.

Also, the grammar in them is purposely left to feel loose and less rigid. If you're a grammar perfectionist feel free to fix it, however, from our testing, we've determined that loose and less rigid grammar use (when not overly incompetent) performs better than grammar nazi messages.

The ONLY Proven Way to Reach Fast Success

Online Dating is a numbers game. You need to be able reach as many different women as possible. The more women you can reach, the higher the probability of converting them into dates/lays/girlfriends/FWB/whatever you desire.

To determine what message works best for you, you need to be able to test out different ones on different women to see which messages get the most replies. You can then further test the best winning ones with new ones to see what messages work best of all. Of course sitting at your computer and messaging hundreds of women would take days and days right?

Not anymore, you can use <http://umpteendates.com> auto POF woman messenger software to automatically message the women for you. All you do is set it up in less than 5 minutes, hit go, and sit back and have a drink while it does all the work messaging women for you.

Umpteen Dates allows you to select a criteria of the type of women you want it to message. You can have it message women based on their age, height, weight, location, etc. etc.

The best part about Umpteen Dates is you can load up to 6 different messages inside the application at once, hit go, and it will message the women you chose it to message, 1 of the 6 different messages. That way when it's done messaging the women for you, you can login to your POF account and just read your replies. You'll be able to quickly see what message got the most replies so that you'll know it's your best performing one.

We can't stress how important this is, and how much time you will save. Don't drive yourself crazy sitting at your computer manually testing, when you can set up Umpteen Dates to do the testing for you in less than 5 minutes, and have it literally do all the work for you bringing the dates to you.

Build Intrigue Openers

How to Use

These openers are designed to get the girl thinking and actively engaged. Because all women on POF get the same type of "hey cutie" messages day in and day out, they fall into a passive stage when reading through their inbox.

In their passivity they are just filtering out beta messages with the delete button. The good news is they are also at a subconscious level scanning for anything unique and attention grabbing.

These openers will grab her attention, make her, think, then think twice, then compel her to view your profile to find out more about the person who woke her from her daze and stirred her attraction by using intellect.

So after reading your profile I thought of the perfect date to take you on!

I'm not sure. How to really say this? But.. I'm actually the last guy you will ever need to talk to on here. [Name] but you can refer to me as future hubby ;)

It seems you live a pretty busy lifestyle, that's the 2nd conclusion I came to of why you're on here.

So, obviously you passed the aesthetics test or shallow men (such as myself) would never contact you, but a buddy of mine was looking over my shoulder and claimed that – without a doubt – your profile looked to have been written by a guy; it's just too perfect, minus the incompleteness.

He claimed that any account with so little information is a dead giveaway. I came to your defense, of course, but now we've got a $20 bet going as to whether or not you're real.

So I wondered, just between us, am I about to lose $20?

Ok so I'm new to this site and you seem like you'd know the answer to this, is it just me or for 99% of the profiles if you've seen them once you've seen them all.. how did you end up in the 1%?

So I'm practicing my ability at character judgment today. From going over your profile I assess that you, like horses, still dream of a prince charming, wish you can drop it all and travel the world, are independent but also like to be loved and appreciated, and look for bigger meanings in even small things?

How'd I do? ;)

Are you a writer? Reading your profile makes it seem like everything just came out natural, or did you really just take the selfie type approach and edit it a few 100 times until you got it just right? ;)

Well now I'm impressed, well dressed, well spoken, non-ghetto etiquette. Did you read one of those guides on "how to set up your profile to attract your prince" if so it's working a little too good so far ;)

You seem like the flip-flops dangling, legs outside the window, road trip in the summer type of girl. If that's the case, guess where we're going?

You're cute, it's too bad your one of those shy type of girls

By the looks of it we have a few things in common, did you use my profile as a template when you made yours in hopes that I would message you. Well you have me trapped, good planning, A+

I'm intrigued, 1 of the very few women on here who actually sounds like she could either take or leave this site. I find that compelling, I'm [Name]

Flattery Openers

How to Use

You might have read the category of these openers and thought to yourself “now that’s more like it, finally I can show a girl how great of a catch I am by complimenting her some romantic lines that will play her heart strings like an angel playing a golden harp.”

If that’s your way of thinking then slap yourself. Flattery openers if not done right can be very dangerous. If it’s one thing I’ve learned about women and humans in general in my 15+ years as a PUA it’s that predictability and redundancy kill attraction and fascination, and uniqueness and intrigue kindle it.

If you were the only person giving a beautiful woman compliments then she would flock to you like she does to the clothing rack in department stores. The fact is though she’s been getting complimented on her looks her whole entire life, so much so that (even if she says you’re sweet) compliments now have the opposite effect on her, label you “just another nice guy” and kill attraction.

What she wants is something different, something exciting, something challenging. That being said, flattery openers can be done right if some thought is put into them. They need to sound sincere, they shouldn’t be overly cheesy (unless playful), and they should be (or she thinks they are) unique.

Wow, I could tell from the minute I saw you... you're nothing like the other girls. I mean the hair, those eyes, the way your lips make a perfectly sultry pout, I swear I've seen you before.. like in a dream.. or a movie. For the love of god reply so I at least know you're real..

Weird thing, soon as I found your profile I got an inspiration to write poetry, and I've never written poetry before. Do you have that effect on all men or is some unearthly force at play here?

I can't remember the last time I ran into a girl on here that caused my heart beat to rise, and breath to shallow. What's yours secret, voodoo? I won't tell.

It's crazy I was on your profile and on the TV they just showed this amazing picture of the milky way... made me wonder what you would look like wrapped in a gown of stars... is that too crazy or did you picture it in your mind?

if you were a triangle you'd be a cute one

My computer overheated when I looked at your profile. must be a sign

I just signed up to this site to see what the hype was about and was starting to wonder when a nice girl would finally pop up in the search.... hey there

So I don't message too many girls on here, most actually bring out this strange urge to just write "hey" or "hi".... but my eyes lit up when I saw your pics, and got even bigger when I read your profile... so I had to message you to find out why that is!

You're too cute to be on this site, I'm [Name] and I'm here to take you off of it.

Question Openers

How to Use

Question openers are very hard to form so that they build quick attraction and are usually just designed to get an initial response from a woman. The response rate is very high but the caveat is you need to be able to turn the conversation from a question asking one into a fun attraction one after you get an answer from her. If you're up for the challenge and think you can do that, try some of these out.

Would you rather have super powers or have Christmas never end?

Quick question, why come on here if you're going to ignore all the guys anyway? ;)

So listen, I've been wondering this for a while and you might be able to help me seen as you're a girl you probably know a lot more about this then I do. I was wondering how many shirts do you think Iron Man can Iron in an hour?

Hey! How's the site been treating you so far?

OMG I think I may, I think I might... from the looks of it? Yes.. yes.. it seems I found a woman on here capable of intelligent conversation? I didn't think such a thing was possible, is it for real?

Well princess have you met your prince charming on here, or are the frogs still wanting kisses?

So I'm back on this site after taking a long hiatus, according to you, is it safe to say the creepers have left or will I still be up a creek without a paddle when it comes to that?

So what brought you to the net? Not meeting any quality guys (such as myself) in "real life"?

How much does the average sea otter weigh?

We're robbing a bank. Are you holding the gun or driving the getaway car?

What does Lady Gaga wear...on Halloween? I must know this answer!

If Barbie is so popular...then why do you have to buy her friends?

Totally random but, if we're not supposed to have midnight snacks...then why does the fridge have a light in it?

If someone asks you what time it is and you refuse to tell them...are you a clock block?

If imitation is the sincerest form of flattery...is a sex change the surest way to pick up chicks?

If Einstein masturbates...is it a stroke of genius?

If Rihanna "Likes the way it hurts"...why did she leave Chris Brown?

If swearing is immature...why is it referred to as "adult language"?

Cocky Funny Openers

How to Use

These cocky funny openers are designed to be playful, teasing, and funny. The number one way to a woman's heart (and panties) is through her laugh. Get her laughing, build attraction, build rapport, and progress from there until you seal the deal.

So I've been thinking. I'm getting pretty sick of my job, it's just the same old thing every day. I think I'm going to head on down to Columbia and take a swing at being a renowned drug smuggler, like Johnny Depp in Blow, but it wouldn't be as fun without my Penelope Cruz.

You should join me. I mean you really won't have to do much, maybe a couple lessons of Rosetta Stone but other than that you just sit around by the pool all day, drink margaritas, and get oiled up by hot pool boys while I conduct business. So are you down?

Congratulations! This message entitles you to a scintillating conversation, uncontrollable laughter and (1) free drink. Respond now as this offer is only good for a limited time.

You are too adorable, making a profile on here specifically targeted to get my attention! Definitely get some points for that, but I can't help but wonder a few things... write back, I can't just be giving ANY girl my attention!

you look like you're just the girl that needs me in her life 😊

Well, you look like the girl that needs a man like me in her life. ;))

I was thinking of sending you a semi-perfect opening message then I thought to myself: "Hmmm, I don't know but this adorable, girl looks like trouble right here.. I like trouble, that's why you're now reading this. I'm [Name]"

So how many stalkers have you acquired now thanks to this site? I have a confirmed 3 and 2 are on my suspect list. You're kinda cute so I'm guessing your numbers are higher... or do I have you beat? ;)

Honestly, down to earth smokin hot brunettes/blondes/whatever aren't even my thing. I just figured you never get messaged on here and didn't want you feeling lonely. This is my good deed for the day.

My friend came into the room while I was looking at your profile and told me that if I didn't message you, she would.. I'm made her a bet that you're only into men though, am I right?

Hi, I know we've never met, but I think we should start seeing other people. Sorry :P

Hey how's your week flowing? I was looking up "fish" recipes for a friendly get together im having soon, and then suddenly realized, what site i've now stumbled across!! makes sense in a way, as I've recently turned single atm, Weird, and have now ended up on here!!!! haha so technically, you're the first person im talking too!! make a good impression – [Name]

We are so broken up I want my cd's back, unless you give me a good reason we should try to fix this!!

Does your boyfriend know you have a Plenty of Fish account? Nice try, but you aren't fooling the intelligent people you lil cutie you! You are wrong woman! The poor guy probably is in love with you and you're looking to upgrade. Tsk. Tsk. =(

Hey there, not to come off too strong... But I was just thinking about our future children's names. I was thinking JeMarcus if it's a boy or Ebony if it's a girl. Those were my grandparents names and I'm a traditional kinda guy. Thoughts?

You were right, now that I think about it, you and I WOULD make a cute baby!

So this site tells me that we're a pretty high match. We should just forgo all the dating and get married... What kind of ring do you want or should it be a surprise?

I would slay every single living creature of the Serengeti with a hunters knife if that is what it would take for you to see me as a worthy suitor. I would strangle lion cubs with barbed wire just to demonstrate my value to you. That is how dedicated I am

Just wanted to say I find you very attractive. If I got to know you, I would invite you over for a romantic dinner and as soon as you arrived, I would pull you close and whisper in your ear "I have a Swanson TV dinner in the freezer with your name on it" and then I would proceed to fill a wine glass with Welch's grape juice.

I lost my teddy bear, can i sleep with you?

After seeing your profile, I must demand that you send me a message and ask me out IMMEDIATELY... Hurry up!!

After reading your profile, checking out your pictures and calling a few of America's best trained professionals.. we came to the conclusion that I can in fact.... beat you at a thumb wrestling competition. I know its heartbreaking, but I bet you really are an awesome person... :/

I got some bad news ☹ the guy above me in your email list is STILL MARRIED"just thought Id save you some time, anyways I'm [Name]

Nice profile! But, that's what she said! So you expect people to believe that you are really single? Hmmm, I'm not so sure about that! Does your man know you're on Plenty of Fish? I'm on to you, you mischievous lil cutie! Poor guy's probably at home crying over you and you're looking to upgrade! You're busted you nerd! Shame on you! lol!

Where do you get your moisterizer from? I am guessing it was created by the hands of god, blended with roses from the harvested fields of the Garden of Eden. Its doing wonders for your complexion.... Well, if you don't laugh at my pickup lines then you have no soul lets face the facts. Im good looking and you're good looking..our children would probably become famous hollywood movie stars don't you think..

Hey. Nice clothes on your profile pic!!! Too bad my grandmother has the exact same outfit!!

I'm attractive, you're attractive when are we getting married?

Roses are red, violets are blue,
I realize that I'm, not good looking like you.

But I'm kinda funny, and I'll make you chuckle,
And if I've been bad, tie me up with your buckle.

You can choke me and beat me, and make me your slave,
Ok I'm just kidding, I'm sooooo not that brave.

Whats the worst that can happen, with all these sweet rhymes,
I promise you won't end up, on the cover of the LA Times.

-[Name]

After a rigorously brief overview of your profile, I wanted to let you know I have already married and divorced you in my mind.

Thanks for all the wonderful imaginary memories... you will always have a special place in my heart.

your ex-hubby,

p.s.

You can keep the beach house in Florida as long as I can have the dog and my CD's back

Bold/Sexual Openers

How to Use

If you have balls the size Godzilla is envious of then you can attempt one of these. This type of line can work, and can work very well, they are high risk and high reward. The only way they will work though is if your profile is congruent to the type of person that can say this type of thing.

Meaning if you have a nice body, or just put off a bad boy vibe. These type of messages shock women, and then turn them on enough to want to see who is ballsy enough to send them.

If your profile is set up to lure her attraction, then you will be rewarded. If your profile and pictures scream beta male, she will more than likely delete, cuss you out, or block you. You were warned.

I guess you could call me the shy and mysterious type, I may not speak often, but my words can hit you like a Mike Tyson knockout punch. With that said, I think we may have some chemistry then. My penis is oxygen while your uterus is hydrogen. When we combine the elements I guarantee your vagina will drip H₂O

I want to be the spicy chicken patty in between your ethnic buns and release my special sauce in you

Hey, you're cute. I like to cuddle. But don't try anything pervy on me, cuddle means cuddle only. I might... read that again... might, take my shirt off.

Are you an archaeologist? because I have a large bone for you to examine

How many seafood dinners will it take to make you my bedroom acrobat for years to come?

I like to consider myself a traditional guy, but if you are making me an offer, I don't think I will be able to resist a beautiful lady like yourself. Maybe we can do coffee, then loin sauce facials after wards. I mean we have to at least get to know each other a little bit.

You may not realize this because your female instincts will be in denial, but I will be carefully plotting this entire experience as to how I am going seduce your panties off and turn you into a bedroom acrobat

Hey shawty. lemme holla at you right quick ya know what im sayin. checkin you out over there you lookin kinda good, ya know what im sayin. so i was wondering ya know how about you and me go back to the place, get comfortable, probably sip on some of this henney, you know what im sayin, and after that, you know what im... sayin, we can do the grownup and you can let me clap on dem cheeks, ya hear me?

I wanna rap your legs around my head and wear you like the crown you are, if that's ok with you

I have come to realize that this life is extremely short and repetitive. I will one day turn to compost in the ground, only shortly after being a weak feeble old man incapable of the fun acts of youth. With that said, my mission now is to fulfill myself with pleasure, both sensual and visual. Please aid my quest by depositing unclothed images of yourself in my inbox. Thanks luv

Im like a Rubiks cube... The more you play with me the harder I get

I wish you were my big toe, I'd bang you on my coffee table.

Well, I was hoping you'd be on my nice list so I could stuff your stocking for Xmas, but it seems you are on my naughty list, so it's going to be a spanking instead...

I sent a letter to Santa asking him to put you under my Xmas tree wrapped in only a bow ;)

I'd love to play Santa with someone as hot as you and taste your cookie under my tree all night long.... ;)

If She Viewed Your Profile Openers

How to Use

A lot of girls are passive and don't message guys. Their way of messaging a guy is by viewing his profile and waiting for him to message her. I've asked women that I ended up dating why they didn't message me first, many have told me that they want the guy to make the first move, and if he doesn't it means he's "not interested."

No matter how crazy that sounds, I've found that girls that view your profile first convert into dates at a higher percentage than girls who you view first. Maybe it's because they already feel like they've known you a bit or have invested a little into you. Whatever the reason, here are some openers to use on girls who stumbled upon your profile but didn't write you a message.

Drop in and don't even say hi huh? Where's that [northern/southern/west coast/eastern] hospitality at girlfriend?

Girl didn't your mama teach you not to come up on a man's profile and not at least introduce yourself!

You think you can just waltz up onto my page, creep on my pics, read my about me (totally agree with it), and then just leave without a trace?

I got eyes on you missy, you owe me a “hello message” which i expect in my inbox. I want it in 12pt. font, single spaced, with a good thesis to start. Think you can handle that?

You viewed my profile without saying hi?! I call bs ;)

caught you looking, it's ok we can blame it on destiny ;)

Oh okay...I see how it is! So you think you can just waltz up to my profile, perv out to my pictures and not say anything? Don't be a spy. Say hi!

I noticed you, noticing me, and I can't help but notice, you didn't write me a note!

OK, let's try this again, you have to go back now and click the "send a message" on my profile otherwise I might explode into a million pieces, would you be happy with that?

Hey now, if your going to keep looking at my page like that im going to at least need a name.

Being an online stalker to my profile is ok, as long as those tendencies don't pass on after you become my > date > GF > fiancée > wife > baby mama > ex wife > FWB > wife again > ex wife again

I caught you looking at my profile!. stop doing it, it makes me feel vulnerable :P .. are you a bodybuilder catfish who's got pictures of a cute girl on his profile? Or are you too legit to quit?

So you viewed my profile for 1 of two reasons, 1, you're infatuated with me, 2, the magnetic pull of the universe shifted at the precise second your mouse was in your hand and the forces that be which think we are destined for each other guided you to my page so that the plan can be complete? 1 or 2?

If She Chose You on the Like Feature

How to Use

A lot of online dating sites, including POF, have a feature that enables girls to choose that they “like you” and you get a notification. It's been my, and many other's experience that this feature is predominantly used by overweight girls. However, a few very cute, and even hot women will use this feature sometimes and end up stating that they liked your profile.

This is obviously a good sign but it doesn't guarantee she will now jump into bed with you. What it does allow for is some teasing and attraction to be built so that she will hop in your bed a bit later. These openers are designed specifically to help get you to that paradise.

So you have a crush on me huh?

So you're the one who's been my secret admirer for so long ;)

how dare you not say hi to me after being matched by destiny herself?

PoF apparently thinks that we are a match. That's interesting, as I had us down as a train wreck waiting to happen. I guess opposites DO attract?

So now that we've established that you're in love with me, we should spend some time to get to know each other ;)

Bonus 1 – Asking for Her Number

Ah, one of the most important, and also riskiest part of online dating, the number close. Why is it important? So you can take the relationship to the next level of course. Why is it risky? If it's not done at the right time, when the right amount of attraction and rapport is built, you will not get it.

Further, if you ask too soon it can kill all the attraction you worked up building and set you back to level zero, or even get her to stop replying to you all together. Sounds frightening right? It's not really... if you follow these two rules.

First rule, don't ever ask her number too soon. A good rule of thumb is to have at least 3 messages exchanged, MINIMUM, before you ask for the number. Ideally you want to ask for the number based on what you gauge her attraction to you is.

Some metrics to gauge attraction are, flow of the conversation, her response times, her response lengths, her playfulness, and her inquiry and questions about you. It usually takes a lot more than 3 messages to be able to determine all of that. Once she starts writing longer responses, replying faster, and asking you qualification questions, that's when it's a good time to ask for her number because it allows for a much more efficient way to communicate.

Second rule, don't wait too long to ask for the number. If the conversation's going great and you feel like you're hitting it off you might fear risking the flow by asking for the number, and instead drag it on. Not a good strategy, if you wait too long it will cause her to lose attraction for you, she will think you're indecisive, frightened, non-assertive, and wimpy. Women know that a real man goes for what he wants, and they know an intelligent and alpha man can gauge the appropriate time to do it. It is a bigger risk to wait too long to ask for the number, than it is to ask for it too soon.

So what happens if you ask for the number and it was too soon? One of three things can happen, she can not reply to you, she can reply continuing the conversation and completely ignore the number request, or she can reply and say something along the lines of "I don't give out my number that fast."

Scenario One. If she doesn't reply, then don't double message her right away, wait a few days and see if she replies later. If she doesn't after a few days and you like her enough to try again with her, message her something funny and completely off topic not mentioning anything about the phone number request at all, and then pick up from there if she replies.

Scenario Two. If she replies and ignores the fact that you asked her number, it means she's still interested in you but just not ready to give her number out yet. Continue the conversation like nothing happened, and after a few days of talking you can try again and throw in something funny along with the number request, something along the lines of "and this time I need your brain to process that I'm asking your number, instead of thinking I only typed that to practice my words per minute ;)"

Scenario Three. If she replies and says she doesn't give her number out that soon, you can reply and say, something along the lines of "I usually don't ask that soon but something about you made me do it, how dare you? It's ok though I'm quick to forgive" and then change the subject to playful and then wait until you build more rapport with her before you ask again.

How to Ask for Her Number

It's really nice chatting with you but emailing isn't the most efficient way of talking. I love to text though...here's my number  what's yours?

I'm not on here much. Give me your number and I'll give you a call sometime.
[Name]

I'm not on this site much as I'm pretty busy. Send me your number and I'll text you mine and we can talk offline.

Okay this chatting thing is fun but let's talk on the phone now like NORMAL people. Unless you want to stay Internet pen pals forever ;)

Bonus 2 – Dealing with Short Replies

Ah the dreaded short reply, the "thanks" or, "lol" or, "oh really?" type of replies that a woman sends you after you took your time to craft her a well written message. They can cause men to be infuriated, why do they do this?

There are a few possible reasons a woman will use a short reply to respond to you.

Reason 1 – The message you sent her didn't compel her enough to want to invest enough time to write a meaningful reply.

Solution, write better structured messages with open ended questions or that cause higher attraction, shock value, and comedic value.

Reason 2 – She is using her phone to check her messages while she's on the go.

Solution - If you think your message was good enough to deserve a better reply then call her out using one of the messages to counter short replies found bellow.

Reason 3 – She's testing to see how you react. It's possible you've had an already good conversation going with a girl where the lengths of yours and her replies have been similar, and then out of nowhere she hits you with a short reply. There are two possible reasons, you dragged on the conversation too long without asking her number and she's fast losing interest, or she's throwing you a test to see how you react.

Solution – For the first scenario, go back and read the section on asking for the number and follow the advice given there. For the second scenario, you can either imitate what she's doing by giving out some short replies of your own and then hit her with one of the messages found bellow. Or you can directly hit her with one of the messages found bellow.

Messages to Counter Short Replies

You're going to blow it toots. =(Naughty Naughty! You aren't going to squirm your way out of this. I'm not the type of guy to run away like a shrieking schoolgirl because you just said "Thanks". I'm not buying it. Now you play nice with me and don't disappoint the both of us! =)

You seem to be an expert at rapport building ami right? I mean at the rate of two to three word messages you use to reply we should be able to know everything about each other within the next 7 to 40 years ;)

Based on how lengthy your reply is, I'm guessing your WPM (words per minute) must be anywhere between -35 and 4, am I pretty close? ;)
